Art Unit: 1711

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 was filed in this application after a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, but before the filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or the commencement of a civil action. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the appeal has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114 and prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on November 24, 2006 has been entered.

2. Claims 1, 2, and 5-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As amended, claim 1 sets forth two contradictory limitations, wherein the two contradictory limitations are as follows: (1) component (a) is required to have functionalities having the same reactivity towards the functional groups of component (b), due to the recitation of polyisocyanate species having isocyanate groups having the same reactivity and (2) at least one of components (a) or (b) has functional groups having differing reactivity towards the functional groups of the other component. Therefore, the proposed claim language sets forth contradictory requirements, wherein the reactivity of the isocyanate groups of component (a) are the same and wherein the reactivity of the isocyanates groups of component (a) may be different.

3. It is noted that if claim 1 is amended in response to this rejection to require that only component (b) has functional groups of differing reactivity towards the polyisocyanate, then the species for compound (b) of claim 9 that have functional groups of the same reactivity towards the polyisocyanate would have to be addressed, since these compounds would no longer be encompassed by claim 1. In other words, claim 9 would fail to further limit claim 1.
